

FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT

Annual SASP-meeting 2010 in Oslo, April 8-10

Working with pain patients or pain research?

Basic scientist? Nurse? Doctor? Psychologist? Physiotherapist? Social worker? Occupational therapist?

We welcome you all to a high class scientific meeting:

- of interest for all “pain professions”
- presenting frontlines in clinical- and basic pain research

When? April 8-10, 2010

Where? Hotel Radisson Blue, in central Oslo

How to register for the meeting?.

All information needed for registration, hotel booking, abstracts etc, will be found on www.sasp.org in January 2010.

To members of newSASP, updated information will be sent to your email address.

Abstracts? Deadline March 1. The presentations will be published in the Scandinavian Journal of Pain, the official publication of newSASP. Abstract prizes!

Preliminary program:

- Top-down control of pain- modulation of pain from the brain to the periphery. Imaging.
- Global Year Against Musculoskeletal Pain
- Genetics of Pain. From bench to bedside.
- Pain anatomy and physiology. Visceral pain, musculoskeletal pain, cutaneous pain
- Facial Pain
- Pain Research networking in Scandinavia. How should we do it?
- Free papers- posters and orals presentations
- Social program

Speakers:

The list of prominent speakers include Gerald Gebhart, Jeff Mogil, Lars Arendt-Nielsen, Stein Kaasa, Martin Schmelz, Eija Kalso, Satu Jääskeläinen, Antti Pertovaara, Camilla Svensson, Torsten Gordh, Per Kristian Eide and several more not yet confirmed. See final program on www.sasp.org in January.

Let us meet the spring in Oslo! We are looking forward to an interesting meeting with many scientific interactions and networking!

You are all most welcome!!

Organizing committee: Audun Stubhaug, Ulf Kongsgaard,, Sara Maria Allen, Frøydis Haugan, Gunnvald Kvarstein
Email: audun.stubhaug@medisin.uio.no

The Scandinavian Association for the Study of Pain – new SASP

This pan –Nordic organization aims to stimulate all aspect of pain research, to serve as a meeting point for basic and clinical research, and to promote cooperation in pain research in the Scandinavian countries. But, of course we welcome members from all countries in the world.

Torsten E Gordh
President of newSASP

Homepage: www.sasp.org

Annual SASP-meeting, April 8-10, 2010 in Oslo

